Berkshire Hathaway: A High-Quality, Rapidly Growing 75-Cent Dollar

History

- Berkshire Hathaway today does not resemble the company that Buffett bought into during the 1960s
- Berkshire was a leading New England-based textile company, with investment appeal as a classic Ben Graham-style “net-net”
- Buffett took control of Berkshire on May 10, 1965
- At that time, Berkshire had a market value of about $18 million and shareholder's equity of about $22 million

The Earnings of Berkshire's Operating Businesses Have Grown at a Very High Rate – And Growth is Accelerating

Year	Per-Share Investments	CAGR	Per-Share Pre-Tax Earnings	CAGR
1965	$4		$4
1979	$577	42.8%	$18	11.1%
1993	$13,961	25.6%	$212	19.1%
2008	$77,793	12.1%	$3,921	21.5%

Berkshire is becoming less of an investment company and more of an operating business.

Note: CAGR: 1965-1979, 1979-1993, 1993-2008.

EPS is pretax, net of minority interests and excludes profits of Berkshire's insurance operations.

The Burlington Northern Acquisition Dwarfs Anything Before It

- He's doing a good job – but the cash is coming in so fast!
 - A high-class problem
- Markets have a way of presenting big opportunities on short notice
 - Current chaos, junk bonds in 2002
 - Buffett has reduced average maturity of bond portfolio so he can act quickly

Valuing Berkshire

“Over the years we've...attempt[ed] to increase our marketable investments in wonderful businesses, while simultaneously trying to buy similar businesses in their entirety.” – 1995 Annual Letter

“In our last two annual reports, we furnished you a table that Charlie and I believe is central to estimating Berkshire's intrinsic value. In the updated version of that table, which follows, we trace our two key components of value. The first column lists our per-share ownership of investments (including cash and equivalents) and the second column shows our per-share earnings from Berkshire's operating businesses before taxes and purchase-accounting adjustments, but after all interest and corporate expenses. The second column excludes all dividends, interest and capital gains that we realized from the investments presented in the first column.” – 1997 Annual Letter

Year	Investments Per Share	Pre-tax Earnings Per Share Excluding All Income from Investments
1967	$ 41	$ 1.09
1977	372	12.44
1987	3,910	108.14
1997	38,043	717.82

“In effect, the columns show what Berkshire would look like were it split into two parts, with one entity holding our investments and the other operating all of our businesses and bearing all corporate costs.” – 1997 Annual Letter

Buffett's Comments on Berkshire's Valuation Lead to an Implied Multiplier of Approximately 12

Year	Investments Per Share	Pre-tax EPS		Intrinsic Value	Implied Multiplier
		Excluding All Income From Investments	Year-End Stock Price
1996	$28,500	$421	$34,100	$34,100	13
1997	$38,043	$718	$46,000	$46,000	11
1998	$47,647	$474	$70,000	$54,000	13
1999	$47,339	-$458	$56,100	$60,000

- 1996 Annual Letter: "Today's price/value relationship is both much different from what it was a year ago and, as Charlie and I see it, more appropriate."
- 1997 Annual Letter: "Berkshire's intrinsic value grew at nearly the same pace as book value" (book +34.1%)
- 1998 Annual Letter: "Though Berkshire's intrinsic value grew very substantially in 1998, the gain fell well short of the 48.3% recorded for book value." (Assume a 15-20% increase in intrinsic value.)
- 1999 Annual Letter: "A repurchase of, say, 2% of a company's shares at a 25% discount from per-share intrinsic value...We will not repurchase shares unless we believe Berkshire stock is selling well below intrinsic value, conservatively calculated...Recently, when the A shares fell below $45,000, we considered making repurchases."

Estimating Berkshire's Value: 2001 – 2009

		Pre-tax EPS Excluding All Income From	Intrinsic Value	Subsequent Year Stock Price Range
Year End	Investments Per Share	Investments	Per Share
2001	$47,460	-$1,289	$64,000	$59,600-$78,500
2002	$52,507	$1,479	$70,000	$60,600-$84,700
2003	$62,273	$2,912	$97,000	$81,000-$95,700
2004	$66,967	$3,003	$103,000	$78,800-$92,000
2005	$74,129	$3,600	$117,300	$85,700-$114,200
2006	$80,636	$5,200-$5,400 ²	$143,000-$144,400	$107,200-$151,650
2007	$90,343	$5,500-$5,700 ³	$156,300-$158,700	$84,000-$147,000
2008	$77,793	$5,728	$123,617 (8 multiple)	$70,050-$108,100
2009 (est.)	$92,500	$5,000 ⁴	$142,500 (10 multiple)	?

Given compressed multiples at the end of 2008, we used an 8 rather than a 12 multiple. We bumped this to a 10 multiple at the end of 2009, still below the 12 multiple we believe Buffett uses.

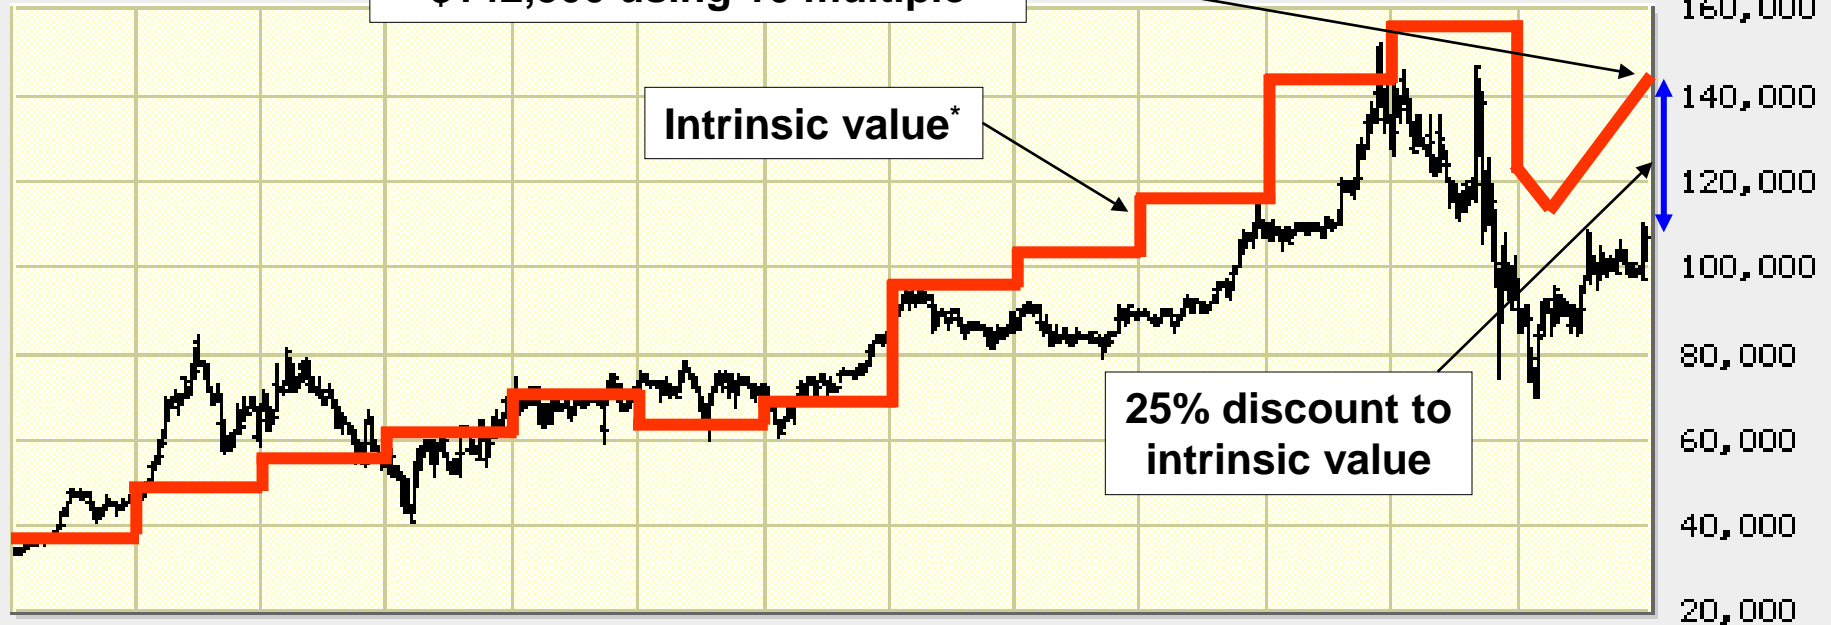

1. Unlike Buffett, we include earnings from Berkshire's insurance businesses.
2. Actual result was $6,492, but we reduce this to assume the 2nd-worst year ever for super-cat losses.
3. Actual result was $6,270 but we reduce the pre-tax, pre-investment-income margins of the insurance businesses by 400 basis points (from 14% to 10%) to reflect Buffett's guidance in the Annual Report.
4. We have trimmed our estimate of normalized earnings to reflect the weak economy.

Even Using an 10 Multiple, Berkshire Is Approximately 25% Below Intrinsic Value

* Investments per share plus 12x pre-tax earnings per share (excluding all income from investments) for the prior year, except for YE 2008 (8 multiple) and YE 2009 (10 multiple).

12-Month Investment Return

- Current intrinsic value: $142,500/share
- Plus 5% growth of intrinsic value of the business
- Plus cash build over next 12 months: $4,000/share
- Equals intrinsic value in one year of $153,600
- 44% above today's price

Catalysts

- Continued earnings growth of operating businesses
- New equity investments
- Additional cash build
- Moody's restores AAA rating (not likely in the near term)
- Potential for more meaningful acquisitions and investments
 - If there's a double-dip recession, this becomes more likely

Risks

- A double-dip recession impacts Berkshire's earnings materially
- Berkshire's stock portfolio declines
- Investments in GE, Goldman and others turn out badly
- Losses in the shorter-duration derivatives such as credit-default swaps are larger than expected and/or mark-to-market losses mount among the equity index puts
- A major super-cat event occurs that costs Berkshire many billions
- Berkshire is downgraded further
- No catalyst occurs, so the stock sits there and doesn't go up
 - Intrinsic value will likely continue to grow nicely
- Something happens to Buffett
 - In good health; turned 79 last Aug. 30th
 - Strong board and succession plan in place
 - Little Buffett premium in stock today

Conclusion

- Cheap stock: 75-cent dollar, giving no value to recent investments and immense optionality
- Extremely safe: huge cash and other assets provide downside protection
